BUILDING, ROOF COLLAPSESOnly Five Out of 35 "Carpenters" Were Experienced Men He Said.Columbus, Oct. 29.—Testimony tending with charges of inefficiency, mismanagement, extravagance and even of fraud marked the opening of the congressional investigation of the construction of Camp Sherman here today.The witness giving the sensational testimony was M. L. Stevenson, Columbus, a building contractor who was employed as a construction foreman by the A. Bentley and Sons company, general contractors, Toledo. The investigation is being conducted by a sub committee composed of Representatives Roscoe McCullough, of Ohio, and Mc-Kenzie, of Illinois, Republicans, and Doremus, of Michigan, Democrat.
Stevenson's testimony was given chiefly in regard to the construction building in section H on which he was the foreman of carpenters. He declared that though the building was not yet completed when he was discharged, as he believed, because he would not enter into a proposition for graft made by a timekeeper by the name of Johnson the labor cost had reached approximately $7,000 when it should not have exceeded $300. Asked by Mr. McCullough the reason for such immense labor cost, Stevenson said it was due to mismanagement, poor delivery of material and the employment of inexperienced men. He said out of 35 men assigned him for work on the building only five were experienced carpenters, the others being high school students, one a bartender, a manual training teacher and common laborers who never had done carpenter work. All were paid the union carpenter scale of wages of 60 cents per hour for ten hours and double time for Sundays and overtime.
Stevenson said these conditions pre-valled generally throughout the entire camp and declared that the labor cost was 50 per cent more than it should have been.
"At least 50 per cent of the labor cost could have been saved," he said.
"There were so many inexperienced amendment to the peace treaty, last of those proposed by the foreign relations committee, was defeated in the senate. Like the Johnson amendment defeated last Monday, it dealt with voting power in the League of Nations.

The vote was 36 to 47. Of those supporting the Moses amendment, three were Democrats—Ford, Shields and Walsh, Mississippi. Nine Republicans—Cott, Edge, Hile, Kellogg, Keyes, internal problems of the central empires have been refused by the British government.Representatives of other countries, including the United States will attend sociation known as the "fight the famjudicial member of the privy council is president.MAY LIMIT SUGAR TO

This step by the board, Mr. Hoover said, resulted from the fact that the strike committee of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.Mr. Hines, it was expected will be guided in his decision by the policy laid down by President Wilson under which no general wage increase would

WAS EFFECTIVE TUESDAYWet Interests May Test Legality of Legislation Just Passed.Washington, Oct. 29.—Armed with the drastic provisions of the prohibition enforcement act, which became effective as to war time prohibition with passage by the senate of the measure over the President's veto late yesterday, agents of the bureau of internal revenue today took up the task of making absolute the ban on manufacture and sale of liquor.The few remaining saloons in the United States were legally open today for the sale of beverages containing less than one-half of one per cent alcohol.Announcement was made last night that the United States Brewers' association will file a suit attacking the constitutionality of the provisions covering war time prohibition. A statement issued from the brewers' publicity headquarters denounces the act as "discriminatory and unjust."Meantime orders have been flashed from the treasury department to internal revenue collectors and agents the country over to put into effect instructions already in the hands of those officials for enforcement of the dry legislation.There is intimation for the first time as to what those instructions contain:
"Your immediate and first attention," say the orders, "is called to such violations as:"—Open or clandestine manufacture or sale of beverage spirits and fermented malt liquors.
"—Bootleggers or peddlers.These violations stand out promi-nently, and will require your immediate attention. No effort should be spared to bring the guilty parties promptly to trial and punishment."In these straight away declarations is found some indication of the trend of enforcement as to the new law. Uncle Sam has laid his hand upon the business.First of all, the coming into effect of the new law means that 2.75 beer is doomed, unless the war time restrictions of the act should be held unconstitutional as a result of the suit threatened by the brewers.Beer containing 2.75 per cent alcohol by volume has been on sale in New York, Pennsylvania and other former wet states, despite the dictum of national prohibition. It was not legal, but there was a court issue as to whether 2.75 beer was intoxicating, and in the absence of specific enforcement, saloonkeepers "took a chance," and got away with it.The new law specifically defines as intoxicating any beverage containing more than one-half of one per cent alcohol by volume.Commissioner of Internal Revenue Daniel C. Roper issued a statement last night, announcing plans for enforcement of prohibition under the new act.
The law makes the bureau of internal revenue the enforcing agency in the enforcement both of war time and constitutional prohibition. Responsibility for its enforcement, however, is not confined to the bureau. Commissioner Roper points out, but is distinguished among federal, state, county and municipal officers, "every one of whom is expected to do his full part."LABOR CHIEFS TO

of Lake Steamer For Bodies of Missing VictimsMuskegon, Mich., Oct. 29.—Twenty-two persons were officially announced for early today and 14 were known to have lost their lives in the sinking yesterday of the Crosby line lake steamer, Muskegon, which was driven into the pier by a gale while on her last trip from Milwaukee and pounded to pieces by the heavy seas. "Coroner James Babine and Crosby line officials stated they believed all the missing had perished. The captain was unable to give the names of those unaccounted for, but thought they included four of the crew and three passengers.With calmer seas today divers began searching the hull of the vessel, which sank from sight in 60 feet of water last night. Some of the missing it was believed, had been trapped between decks when the steamer rammed the pier.Coast guards and anxious relatives spent all night searching the wrecked steamer coast watching for the sea to give up its dead, but only six bodies had been recovered this morning.ITALIANS CONCERNED OVER U. S. ATTITUDEParis, Oct. 29.—Despatches from Rome indicate that considerable concern has been caused here by a report that the United States would refuse the proposal of Italy regarding the Adriatic probe. In Italian circles here it is indicated that there is also an impression that the United States will not agree to the Italian plan.RAIL SHOPMEN MAY MAKE WAGE DEMANDSPittsburgh, Oct. 29.—The convention of delegates representing railroad shopmen of the country, in session here, had under consideration today the question of presenting an ultimatum relating to their demands for wage increases for craftsmen and helpers, to the railway employee's department at Washington.A committee appointed to draw up the ultimatum, was expected to report back to the convention before the end of the day.Some delegates have urged that a strike be declared, effective December 1, unless the demands are met, while others have expressed the opinion that such action would injure the cause of labor.BIG MAJORITY FAVORS FIUME ANNEXATIONParis, Oct. 29.—Reports of the elections held in Fiume on Sunday for selecting members of the new communal council show that 6,688 persons voted the straight annexation ticket. 1,891 voted for the party led by Professor Zanella, who came to an open break with Captain Gabriele D'Annunzio, and that 3,189 of those registered did not vote, according to advices reaching here.LEADER SAYS TROOPS DEFEAT STRIKE EFFORTChicago, Oct. 29.—General conditions in the Chicago steel district, today showed no marked change from the last few days. Chief interest still centered at Gary, Indiana, where one strike leader said the strike had been lost through use of federal troops. Joe Bolla, a picket at the south Chicago steel mills was shot by a deputy last night but was not seriously wounded.KAISER'S NEW HOME IS UNLUCKY HABITATIONDoorn, Holland, Oct. 15.—There is a superstition at Doorn that the house at Doorn recently purchased by the former kaiser is unlucky for its male occupants. It is said that the house has generally been occupied by widows, the men having died after a few years' occupancy.
The Baroness Van Heemstra, who sold the house to the kaiser, was a

NEW BOMB PLOTCleveland Police Declare Arrest of Six Last Night Fails New Effort to Ter-rorize.Cleveland, Oct. 29.—Discovery of a radical plot to spread terror throughout the nation by another series of bomb explosions next spring was announced by the police here today following the arrest last night of five men and one woman, suspected of having planned the destruction of the central police station.Believing they are members of an anarchistic circle that has been working in more than 100 cities, the police questioned the group all night in an effort to learn details of their plans or the extent of their organization.The arrests were made in four simultaneous raids, following information that an attempt was to be made to bomb central police station here. One of the men is believed by the police to have been active in bombing Mayor Harry L. Davis' home June 2, last.With the prisoners the police captured a large quantity of high explosives, one complete bomb, several incompleted bombs, a number of automatic pistols and a supply of ammunition and much anarchist literature.The police declared the bombs were similar to those used in the bombing of Mayor Davis' home. They believe the arrests will lead apprehensions in other cities in connection with the country-wide outrages which occurred last May and June.Four raids were made by police last night and today to co-operate with police in other cities.Those held by the police are: Theodore Lerowar and Steve Mateka and his wife, Helen, charged with having explosives in their possession; George Teodor, charged with being a suspicious person and three men whose names the police are withholding, two of whom are said to be terrorists internationally known as radical followers.Four raids were made by police last night on information gathered by officers who have been working on the case for two months.A tip from Chicago that central police station here was to be blown up soon hastened the raids which had been planned for a few days hence.

OHIO PROHIBITION ACTColumbus, Oct. 29.—L. H. Gibson, manager of the Ohio Home Rule association in a statement issued today predicted voters of Ohio next Tuesday will reject the party led by Professor Zanella,
who came to an open break with Cap-
3,189 of those registered did not vote, according to advices reaching here.Gibson declared radical drys in congress are aware of the sentiment in Ohio which he said was the reason they hastened the passage of the national prohibition enforcement act over the veto of the president."The radical prohibitionist have over-stepped all bounds of decency in utterly disregarding the president's judgment and wishes and have made it manifest that they are more anxious to secure home-involving legislation than they are to be fair."GARFIELD THINKS

EDEL FORDDetective Declares Kidnap-

Him Into Concrete Cell
Until Ransom Was Paid.Toledo, Oct. 29.—Floyd Gray, Burns detective, whose story of a plot to kidnap Edsel Ford, son of Henry Ford, caused the arrest of four men here yesterday, today gave details to support his claim.He said the kidnaping conspirators planned to build a cement vault under a house in Mount Clemens, Michigan, place young Ford in the vault and give him two weeks' provisions. In case a demand for $200,000 ransom should be refused, Edsel would be left to die in the underground cell, according to Gray.From Detroit today came word that Gray is a bonafide Burns operative and has a good record. The chief of the Burns agency in Detroit said the bureau had unqualified confidence in Gray.Fearing molestation Gray last night changed his residence and is preparing to leave the city as soon as the arrangement of the four men is disposed of.Gray admits the alleged plot sounds incredible but asserts that he has "the goods" to discredit any ridicule of his story. Local police, who at first were inclined to think Gray a crank, now think his claims substantial.Four suspects will be arraigned tomorrow.COMISKEY PLANS TO HAVE TRAINING CAMPChicago, Oct. 29.—A permanent training home for the Chicago Americans, with its own hotel and commissary equipment is planned by Charles A.
Comiskey, owner of the club, it was learned today. A site climatically and otherwise adapted to the results in spring training is sought. The place picked for the coming training season probably will be chosen as the permanent home, Mr. Comiskey said, but the plan will not be put into effect next year, as being desired to try out the camp first.ALLIED WORKERS TO JOIN COAL STRIKEBellaire, Ohio, Oct. 29.—Drivers, engineers and shovel men employed in stripping and surface mining of soft coal in various parts of eastern Ohio, although not classed as miners and not aroused when the United Mine Workers of America, will go out on sympathetic strike when the soft coal miners cease their work November 1. Surface mining is a comparatively new operation in Ohio. In many localities where the deep seams of soft coal gradually rise to the surface, the coal can be stripped with large scoops and steamshovels, after removing a layer of from 10 to 40 feet of dirt. Only about ten per cent of the mining activity in this district is surface min-of the trouble at harbor side but it was of a comparatively minor nature.MAY RATIFY TREATY treaty came into effect on the an-house of commons today that the government hoped the treaty would be formally ratified on November 11 and come into force the same day.

WIRE OPS. WON'T INCREASE.

St. Louis, Oct. 29.—Twenty-one general chairmen of the Order of Railway Telegraphers in session here believe a strike vote should be taken in the Chicago district to enforce an approximately five cents an hour wage increase award made last December by former Director General of Railroad William G. McAtee, according to a statement today by E. J. Manion, president of the order. Manion said he would authorize the vote if the chairman requested it stated that 18 men were entombed in the Y and O coal mine there and in danger of being killed owing to a fire which was reported as raging in the mine. Only meagre details were obtainable.Columbus, Oct. 29.—The state mine rescue car left Columbus in a special train shortly after noon today for Amsterdam, Ohio, where 18 miners are reported entombed in a mine that is on fire. The train has been given a clear right of way and should reach Amsterdam about 5 o'clock this evening.According to the word received at the general offices of the New York Central railroad in this city, the fire had origin in an overheated belt wheel on one of the fans used in ventilating the mine.The Y. and O. mine is worked from a shaft 218 feet in depth and is one of the leading mines in that district. It is owned by the Y. and O. Coal company of Cleveland.A call has been sent to Columbus for one of the state mine rescue cars and equipment. The fire is said to have been discovered about 8:30 o'clock today.The call for the car came from the general manager of the Y. & O. Coal company, who telegraphed from Clevelfire and that about 18 men were back of the flames.The fire was said to be in the shaft of the men and it was said poisonous it was announced, had no idea of modifying the call for a cessation this statement was appointed and prepare three hours in which to prepare it, the conference adjourned until 4 p. m.With but sixty hours left before the time for stoppage of production of the nation's fuel supply, the meeting as-weighty one which has yet been held in connection with the miners demands it will come the final word of the min-of coal miners in all parts of the coun-

Special services Sunday will mark the dedication of the First Spiritualists church in North Fourth street, formerly the Welsh Congregational church. The building was purchased last summer by the Spiritualists congregation, which had been meeting in the Elmwood avenue church and in Woodmen's hall.

Speakers from out of the city will assist the pastor, Rev. F. A. Coney, during the Sunday services. The dedicatory sermon will be preached at 10:30 a. m. by Dr. George B. Wayne, of Chicago. In the afternoon at 2:30 o'clock Rev. William B. Hammond, of Columbus, will speak. In the evening Rev. George B. Way, of Wheeling, will preach.

HIGH SCHOOL WILL CANCEL REST OF FOOTBALL GAMES

Faculty and Team Called For Meeting Thursday When Action Will Be Taken.

Because of the accident in Saturday's football game Superintendent O. J. Barnes stated today that it seemed in the judgment of the school to be better to cancel the football schedule for this year.

The game with Marietta for next Saturday has already been cancelled, and a meeting of the team and faculty will be held tomorrow to determine on the remainder of the season. "An accident like that of Saturday takes the life out of a team," stated Supt. Barnes. It is understood many of the parents of the players are objecting to their further participation in the game.

Delaware has also cancelled their game for next Saturday. They were to have played Marietta.

Raymond Kelsey, the injured football player, was removed from Grant Hospital at Columbus to his home in Delaware late yesterday.

The accident on operation there by Dr. Baldwin, who stated the spinal cord was broken in two places, and that the boy might live for a few days but he believed there were no hopes for his recovery. He witnessed the trip to Delaware in the ambulance, but his condition is very critical this afternoon.

greatly retarded getting in each other's way. I recall an incident where fifty of these men were employed in putting a roof on a temporary labor quarters. There were so many on the roof that it gave way, causing some of them to be injured.

About three days before he was discharged Stevenson said the timekeeper came to him and proposed that he keep the men no longer needed on the payroll by their numbers, report them as being employed, draw their pay on fictitious names, divide it between Johnson, the timekeeper, and himself and Vandermark, his section foreman. He said he refused to do this and his discharge followed. He was unable to give the first names or residence of either Johnson or Vandermark.

Answering questions by Representative McCullough, Stevenson said that small contractors would have been glad to bid on construction work but that they were not permitted to do so. He gave as his opinion that the work could have been done quicker and much cheaper by letting it in smaller contracts.

Bureau at Washington Declares the Sinn Feiners Blocked England's Attempt To Reduce Manpower.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 28.—The following statement was issued tonight by Daniel T. O'Connell, director of the Irish National Bureau:

When British propaganda is so persistent and so subtle that it reaches to the hearts and minds of members of the United States congress, and so victimizes a distinguished Representative as to bring from him the statement that Ireland had not done her share in the war against Germany, the Irish National Bureau can no longer allow this false impression to go uncorrected. The congressman from Texas who made that statement yesterday to an active worker in the cause of Irish freedom made it in good faith. He had read it, or heard it, somewhere. The Irish National Bureau gives him the truth of the matter so that he might go home and hold his head high, for he had Irish blood in his veins.

This, then, is the truth: Ireland not only did her full share in the war against Germany, but did a greater share of the work than might justly have been apportioned her. France and Belgium were her traditional friends, and she sprang to their defense.

When in 1914, Asquith went to Dublin on a recruiting tour, from which he spoke with the aid of the ancient colors of the Irish nation, and the appeals to the people were printed in Gaelic, Asquith gave assurance that England would not be short of men until the rights of small nations were assured—and then, in the same fall, denied to Ireland the home rule which the British parliament had pledged to her.

Yet, in spite of this perfidy on the part of the British governing ring, 6.12 per cent of Ireland's total population enlisted under the British flag to offer their lives for the freedom of the oppressed and the destruction of the doctrine that might is right.

The full significance of this record of Ireland's service can best be understood if compared with the record of America. Available figures show on November 1, 1918, the total strength of the United States army and navy, including naval reservists, and about 8,000 women (to be 4,293,888. This is a fraction under 4 percent of the total population of the country for 1918. So far as the Irish National Bureau can ascertain, the men under arms, at home and abroad, at no time comprised 5 per cent of our population.

The statements regarding Ireland's war service are based upon official utterances of the British authorities. Lord Wimborne, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, reported to Lord Kitchener on January 14, 1916, that there were 51,046 Irishmen serving as regulars and reservists in the British army in August, 1914. According to Sir Eric Geddes, in the House of Commons, there were, up to 1918, 170,000 enlisted in Ireland. According to the statement of T. P. O'Connor, M. P., after a statistical survey, there were more than 35,000

Irish boys temporarily employed away from home who enlisted in English and Scotch regiments in 1914-1915. According to Wimborne's report, there were 5,346 Irishmen in the English army. In 1918 there were more than 7,000 additional enlistments in Ireland, and a conservative estimate gives an addition of 4,000 navy and navy reserve enlistments. This gives as a total of 27,592 Irishmen from Ireland fighting in the English army and navy in the war.

Even Lord Morris, late Prime Minister of Newfoundland, is not in favor of the Irish republic, recently wrote: "Nothing could be more splendid than the part played by the Irish at the start. The Victoria cross proudly worn on the breasts of Irish soldiers shows that this is no boast, and the subsequent failure of Ireland to take her place, as she has always taken it, on the battlefields of the empire was due to that fatal policy pursued at the war office—a policy in which everything humanely possible was done to make recruiting more difficult."

But it was not alone the war office that checked recruiting after the first response. It was a matter of far deeper concern to the Irish nation. The latest statistics (1911) show that only three years before the war began there were in Ireland only 75,000 men married and unmarried, fit and unfit, of military age. An in January, 1916, Lord Wimborne reported that there were then only 400,000 single men of military age in Ireland, and that of this total at least 252,000 were essential to agriculture, and that other vital industries would absorb another 48,000. This left a balance of only 100,000 single men, fit and unfit, available in Ireland for military service at a time when 3,000,000 Englishmen were safely enlisted in British factories.

This tremendous shortage of manpower in Ireland must be considered. For it has from earliest times been the English governmental policy to so conduct its Irish affairs as to wipe out the manhood and the womanhood, as well as that country.

England would have the Irish situation adjusted by making Ireland a non-Irish country.

In 1841 Ireland had about 5,000,000 cattle and 9,000,000 people. In 1914 Ireland had more than 10,000,000 cattle and only a little more than 4,000,000 people.

These figures are eloquent. England's administration of Ireland had obviously favored the raising of cattle and the extinction of Irishmen.

Sinn Fein well knew this, and, after the first period of generous volunteering was over, determined to prevent a further diminution of Ireland's population: it blocked recruiting by declaring that the first duty of Irishmen in the battle for democracy was to preserve the safety and rights of Ireland, which had been waging this selfsame battle to remove more than 700 years. This could not be accomplished by the wiping out of the remaining handful of young Irish manhood.

If Ireland had recruited men at the rate that England would have had her home—the Irish nation would now be nearer extinction than Serbia or Belgium.

The British program of Irish enlistment, like the earlier British programs of evictions, throttling industries, artificially created famines and enforced emigration, threatened the Gaelic nation with death. Yet, in spite of this threat, Ireland did her share.

mittee composed of 32 members, and the board of executives comprising a representative from each of the 29 districts are in attendance. All those present, it was stated, will have a vote.

The delegates entered the conference sober-faced and with a full realization of the seriousness of their undertaking. They are in the wrong, but were aware that the national and state governments were lined solidly against them and that the governments are backed by widespread public opinion that the miners are in the wrong. On every hand they have been met with explanations of the grave consequences attached to the threatened strike on the verge of winter.

Discontinuance of the production of coal would more effectively tie up the industries of the country than would a strike of any other body of workers and in addition such action would cause suffering among millions of the country's inhabitants. Despite the frantic efforts of the railroads to furnish extra cars to the mines for transportation of what fuel is on hand at the moment, it will be impossible to provide an adequate supply for even a short period.

Right up to the hour of the conference this morning, miners reiterated that they were willing to negotiate with operators, but said the latter had shown no inclination to discuss the demands.

BELIEVE MINERS WILL POSTPONE STRIKE

Washington, Oct. 29.—Hopeful that the strike of bituminous miners, called for Saturday, may yet be averted, officials turned their attention today to Indianapolis where the executive board of the mine workers was called to meet. While some officials were not optimistic, in other quarters there was evidenced a distinct feeling that the miners' answer to President Wilson's appeal would be favorable.

Should the executive board decide adversely on the request of the president that the strike be called off, the government, it was indicated after yesterday's cabinet meeting at which the situation was discussed, was prepared to deal with any situation that might arise.

DAYLIGHT SAVING ENDS

(Pittsburgh (Gazette Times)

Two o'clock last Sunday morning ended daylight saving for 1919, that being the officially designated hour for turning back the nation's clocks 60 minutes to standard time. Under the law passed by Congress last summer (if it remains unrepudiated) there will be no national daylight saving next year. This law was passed by a large majority over a presidential veto, mainly as a result of the appeal of the farmers and against the protests of city workers. While national daylight saving is legally abolished, it is within the possibilities that it may be revived by purely local communities. Movements have been started toward this end in a few large cities, but no final action has been taken, and none should be taken hastily. In some states it is said that statute law stands in the way of individual cities putting into effect an official time different from that of the entire commonwealth. There will be ample opportunity between now and next March to inquire into all the legalities and to take such action as may be possible in the circumstances. City workers will be loath to give up the additional hour of daylight during the summer season, but we must all be law-abiding.

419 EGGS FROM 20 HENS IN 30 DAYS

Mr. Dougherty Got This Result in October. Plan is Easily Tried.

"I tried Don Sung and the results were far past any expectations. I got 419 eggs in 30 days from 20 hens while moulting. I think this is wonderful, as they hardly laid at all before while moulting."—Frank Dougherty, 5340 E. 11th St., Indianapolis.

Mr. Dougherty bought $1 worth of Don Sung tablets in October and wrote the above letter in November. Figure his profit on 35 dozen eggs from hens that formerly laid little or nothing.

This may sound too good to be true, but it costs nothing to find out. We'll make you the same offer we made him. Give your hens Don Sung and watch results for one month. If you don't find that it pays for itself and pays you a good profit besides, tell us and your money will be promptly refunded.

Don Sung (Chinese for egg-laying) works directly on the egg-laying organs, and is also a splendid tonic. It is easily given in the feed, improves the hen's health, makes her more active in any weather, and starts her laying.

Try Don Sung for 30 days and if it doesn't get you the eggs, no matter what the weather, your money will be refunded by return mail. Get Don Sung from your druggist or poultry remedy dealer or send 50 cents for a package by mail prepaid. Burrell-Dugger Co., 284 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.

DR. CHAMBERLAIN 2ND WAR PREXY

Brings Denison Safely Through Crisis of World War When Heavy Drain Is Made On University Finances.

Dr. Clark Wells Chamberlain, the last of a long line of eminent educators to serve as president of Denison University, can claim the distinction of being the second war president of the institution, now in its 89th year. Indeed it is due to his wise and prudent management of the business affairs and to the confidence reposed in him by the board of trustees that the university has come through a serious crisis in its history with flying colors.

The call to arms found Denison men anxious to respond and the ranks of upper classmen were so depleted by enlistments in army service as to prove a serious drain. However, the president and faculty were no less patriotic than the students and the first year of the war was successfully met. The installment of the E. A. T. C. in Denison, while a patriotic effort to meet the government demands, was a distinct liability. Denison being called upon for a heavy outlay. If there were delays and a few mistakes due to army red tape and restrictions they have been lost sight of in the final victorious outcome and Denison University has entered upon a new era of service and of success.

Pres. Chamberlain came to Granville when he was a student in Doane Academy and was graduated from the university in 1894. He specialized in physics and served with distinction on the faculties of Reserve Academy and of Colby College before he returned to Denison as professor of physics. In 1904-05, accepting a call to Vassar College as head of the department of physics in 1908 he remained in that position until recalled to Denison in 1913 to the president's chair.

In 1910 Columbia University conferred upon him the degree of Doctor of Philosophy. He is the inventor of the Compound Interferometer, which is the most powerful instrument of research known to modern science. He was awarded a medal at the Jamestown Exposition for the exhibition of original instruments of research.

He is a Fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, Fellow of the American Physical Society, starred in "Men of Science" as one of America's leading scientists, member of the executive committee Northern Baptist Convention, president of the American Baptist Education Society. Thoroughly equipped for his important position, he stands shoulder to shoulder with the board of trustees in the drive for a "Greater Denison," which will also mean a Greater Granville and a Greater Licking County.

Mrs. Chamberlain was formerly Miss Jessie Husted, of Norwalk, an alumna of Denison.

Mr. and Mrs. Sheppard expect to build on their property at the rear of the old Robinson farm.

The meeting of the Pioneer Manning Bee which was to have been held at the home of Mrs. Rusler Thursday, has been postponed for two weeks on account of the death of Mr. H. B. Rusler in Johnston Monday. The meeting will be held as scheduled on Thursday, Nov. 13th.

Louis Kussmaul of Newark was a Granville visitor on Sunday.

WHO'S WHO IN THE VILLAGE

Fourteen years ago, under the auspices of the Women's Centennial Association, Granville took a thorough inventory of stock—history, biography and autobiography were features of the local, county and state papers preceeding, during and following the week's big celebration, which resulted in a boom for Granville.

Since that time many changes have occurred in business, social, educational and religious circles until today even the oldest resident no longer knows "Who's Doing What" in the village.

The weekly page in the Advocate devoted to Granville is designed to supply a long-felt need along this line, and "Who's Who in Granville" will receive due heed of attention.

a century the name has been a household word. So popular was the old "Buxton House" throughout the state, under the management of Major Buxton and his wife, Mrs. Marion Partridge Buxton, that the old name is retained under the present management of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Haskins. The jewelry store of Fred H. Buxton at Broadway and North Prospect street is one of the oldest established business houses in the village. He recently purchased the old Bno house in Broadway where he now resides. Mrs. Buxton was formerly Miss Della Fogel of Mt. DENISON PLANS H. S. CONTEST

Ohio High Schools To Compete for Scholarships at Denison In Oratorical Events.

Three college scholarships aggregating three hundred dollars in value are the prizes offered in a state-wide oratorical contest for high school students, now being organized by Denison University. Further details of the plan will be announced from time to time by President Clark W. Chamberlain.

The state will be divided, for purpose of the contest, into ten high school districts. In each of these districts students will be given the opportunity to compete in preliminary contests to be held in certain centrally located high schools which will be specified in the near future. Probably an officer will be sent out from Granville to supervise each of these contests.

The winners of the preliminary contests will then be invited to come to Granville as guests of the university, there to take part in a final trial of oratorical skill. All expenses of travel and entertainment for these contestants will be borne by the university. At the final contest judges of prominence will be present and decide on the merits of the speaking. A plan is being devised whereby at least one hundred students from state high schools will be able to attend the contest as "rooters" for their friends, either free of charge or at a nominal expense.

At present committees are being formed to organize the work in the ten districts. The actual prizes are scheduled as follows: First prize, a three-year scholarship to Denison University, worth $150; second prize, a two-year scholarship worth $100; third prize, a one-year scholarship, worth $50. The winner of any scholarship chooses instead a cash prize of the amount of which will be announced later. More detailed information will be sent out soon by the contest committee at Granville.

HELD PASTORATE HERE TWENTY-SEVEN YEARS

Rev. Charles Jacobs Baldwin, D.D., like so many others who have achieved distinction, is the son of a minister. He was born in 1846 in Charleston, N. Y. He received his collegiate education at Colgate university and his theological training at Rochester seminary. During the Civil War he was adjutant of a New York regiment and saw much hard service as a soldier. After he had been pastor of a Baptist church in Chelsea, Mass., and pastor of the First Baptist church of Rochester, New York, he came to Granville in 1884, where he was pastor of the Baptist church for 27 years. A few years ago he retired from the active pastorate on account of his broken health and now resides in Granville, his most distinguished citizen.

Dr. Baldwin was able to remain so long in one pastorate, and that, too, in a college town, and to achieve a remarkable ministry—chiefly because of his unusual gifts in the pulpit. He has been pre-eminently a preacher, not of the evangelistic nor of the emotional type—but a preacher of the intellectual type. What he preached was history, literature, science, and especially theology and of subjects closely akin to theology, has seemed to many as no less than amazing. What is more, his learning so vast, so varied, and so accurate has not hampered in the least the creative processes of his mind, as is so often the case with men whose heads are crowded with mere book knowledge. All that Dr. Baldwin has had to do has been to take his own intellectual life, thus fertilizing and enriching it to a remarkable degree. He has been a thinker, keen, fresh, athletic and fruitful. He has had the fullest and finest intellectual community.

He has been a very original preacher, but never in the slightest degree odd or eccentric. No one ever heard him say in his pulpit anything that made the slightest approach to the fantastic. His clear and strong sense of propriety has kept him from all such homiletic depravity as that. His interpretation of the Bible has always been bright and fresh. He has had no theological fads to be supported by petting methods of exegesis. And all that he has had to say has been in language as nearly perfect as one ever hears.

Dr. Baldwin has published "Modern Miracles" and "The First American."

TAKES STEPS TO SAVE ELM TREES

Mrs. B. I. Jones will cheerfully furnish the name and address of the eminent tree surgeon who recently "operated" on the magnificent elms bordering the city lot at Cherry street and Broadway, to her son Grove B. Jones. The trees, which have attained great age and wonderful dimensions, are among the ornaments of the village and Mr. Jones ordered the work done at his own expense. These and other trees along the thoroughfares, badly in need of attention, the great elm in front of the township hall being a notable example. An elm tree must be supplied with plenty of moisture and it has been found that this splendid specimen is too solidly paved over and around for safety.

DR. SPARKS WILL SPEAK TO DRYS

On Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock, Rev. L. C. Sparks and Phil B. Smythe of Newark will address the people of Granville and vicinity on important issues, in the Methodist Episcopal church.

Nusbbaum of the prosecutors office at Atlantic City, and who were in Newark Sunday and a part of Monday morning investigating a story that the lad was seen in this city, had told him that after a thorough investigation they were convinced that the child thought by Mrs. Mary Fuller to be Billy Dansey was not the lost boy and that he had never been in Newark.

How You Can
Save on Cream

INSTEAD of that expensive little bottle of cream you buy when you want "extra good" cereal or coffee, use Every Day Milk.

It looks like cream and is very much like cream.

No wonder! For out of over a quart of rich milk most of the water has been taken, leaving all the rich goodness, all the nourishment, and this is put in a bright, new tin and sterilized—safe—clean—pure—delicious.

Now all this double richness you can buy for about what a bottle of milk costs—and for about half what a tiny bottle of cream costs!

Be independent of the ice man and the milk man. Every day use Every Day—the safe and pure milk.

DOCTOR ISSUES WARNING AND TELLS HOW TO STOP TOBACCO HABIT

New York: Dr. Connor, formerly of John Hopkins Hospital, says: I am often asked if I know anything to stop the tobacco habit and I always recommend Nicotol, which I have prescribed with great success. Nicotol contains no habit-forming drugs, is absolutely harmless and produces astonishing results in a very short time. The use of tobacco saps the vitality, vim, vigor and ambition of the slave who is enthralled by its seductive effects. It undermines the health and leaves the victim an easy prey to general debility, throat and lung troubles, nervousness, insomnia, heart trouble, kidney trouble, headache, tongue and lip cancer and even blindness. Physicians the world over often trace the start of the above diseases and many other to nicotine poisoning.

If you want to free yourself from tobacco go to any drug store and ask for Nicotol tablets. Take one tablet after each meal and in a short time you will have no desire for tobacco—the craving will have left you. With the nicotine poisoning out of your system your general health will quickly improve.

Note: When asked about Nicotol tablets, one of our leading druggists said: "It is truly a wonderful remedy for the tobacco habit—away ahead of anything we have ever sold before. We are authorized by the manufacturers to refund the money to every dissatisfied customer and we would not permit the use of our name unless the remedy possessed unusual merit." Nicotol is sold in this city under an iron-clad money-back guarantee by all up-to-date druggists including, T. J. Evans—Adv.

An Indispensable.

Some years ago, in a certain flagship, the commander had occasion to find fault with the admiral's cook, and awarded him three days of the punishment known at that period as Ten A. The admiral heard of the affair, and sent for the commander on the quarterdeck. "What do you mean by it?" stormed the incensed admiral. "Please to understand that I can get a hundred commanders like you, but only one cook like him!"

Watering House Plants.

Plants should be watered with a spray, not with a cup or a glass. Those that can be moved should be placed where the water will not damage carpets or floors; those that cannot—such as large ferns or palms—should have something spread on the floor beneath them to catch the water as it drips. The water must be sprayed from above so that all the leaves receive it; this carries off the dust and is the only natural way for a plant to receive water.

Well, anyhow, one doesn't have to dodge to escape being hit by falling prices.—Webster City (Ia.) Freeman Journal.

Famo Stops Seborrhea
The Dandruff Disease

No other hair remedy even remotely resembles FAMO.

FAMO kills the dandruff germ and stops the unhealthy flow from the sebaceous glands.

Every ingredient in FAMO is well known to physicians.

But none of these ingredients were ever before applied to saving the hair.

Science perfected FAMO in one of the oldest pharmaceutical houses in Detroit—famous for its laboratories which supply physicians all over the world with medical goods.

FAMO not only kills the seborrhea microbe but it makes the scalp and hair as clean as that of a baby.

It ends all itching of the scalp.

Even where baldness has already appeared (unless the hair roots are absolutely dead) FAMO will encourage and stimulate the growth of new hair.

Many women say FAMO has caused their hair to grow from four to six inches.

FAMO retards grayness and strengthens the natural color. It contains no alcohol to dry the scalp and produce gray hairs.

It makes the hair luxuriant and lustrous and if there is a tendency to waviness FAMO intensifies it.

FAMO should be used by every member of the family.

It can safely be used on the head of the baby as there is nothing in FAMO that will harm the tenderest scalp.

Used on the head of growing children it will make the most unruly hair soft and easy to comb.

Young women find FAMO a peculiarly fine hair dressing. It makes the hair fluffy and full of life.

If you have dandruff you have seborrhea.

Seborrhea is as dangerous to the hair as psoriasis is to the teeth.

So if you have dandruff not a day should be lost in applying FAMO.

Not until FAMO has cleared your scalp of the deadly dandruff bacilli is your hair safe.

Even if you have no dandruff now you should use FAMO so that dandruff will be kept away and to make the hair fluffy and beautiful.

FAMO comes in two sizes—35 cents, and an extra large bottle at $1. It is sold at all toilet goods counters.

Applications at all the better barber shops. Your money will be refunded if you are not satisfied.

Seborrhea is the medical name for a morbidly increased flow from the sebaceous glands of the scalp. The sebaceous secretion forms in scales or flakes, and is commonly known as dandruff.

son & Company, Manufacturing

A DISCOVERY THAT
BENEFITS MANKIND

Two discoveries have added greatly to human welfare.

In 1835 Newton originated the vacuum process for condensing milk with cane sugar to a semi-liquid form.

In 1833 Horlick at Racine, Wis., discovered how to reduce milk to a dry powder form with extract of malted grains, without cane sugar.

This product HORLICK named Malted Milk. (Name since copied by others.) Its nutritive value, digestibility and ease of preparation (by simply stirring in water) and the fact that it keeps in any climate, has proved of much value to mankind as an ideal food-drink from infancy to old age.

"I SAY POSITIVELY
MY RHEUMATISM
WAS RELIEVED
BY DRECO."

Ohio citizen was crippled up so badly could not work for a long time;
joints swollen, muscles sore, neck stiff.

"I say, without hesitation, that I am completely relieved of a bad case of rheumatism, and the whole credit belongs to Dreco, the new root and herb juice remedy," is the signed statement made by Mr. C. A. Wimer of Crooksville, Ohio.

"For years I had rheumatism and have tried all the well-known treatments with no result. My joints were swollen, muscles sore and drawn. My neck was stiff and very painful. At times my limbs felt so bad that I was crippled and could not move with great difficulty."

I had taken so much strong medicine for rheumatism that my stomach was all to pieces, and it frequently filled up with gas and gripped me awful bad.

So many persons right here in town were praising Dreco that I went up and got some to give it a thorough trial, and that was the best money I ever spent. I tell you the pains are gone from my joints and muscles. I can turn my head all around and never have a pain in my neck, and I walk without the slightest inconvenience.
Dreco also soothes my stomach, and it is greatly improved. I am glad to endorse this wonderful medicine that did so much for me."

The old-fashioned remedies made from roots and herbs are the best for any one to take. Dreco is made from twelve different roots, herbs, barks and leaves. These act on the stomach, bowels, kidneys and purify the blood.
Dreco knocks rheumatism out shortly; relieves catarrh of the head and stomach; makes you sleep soundly and creates a good appetite. It is a blood purifier nothing can equal Dreco. It puts a stop to boils, eczema and other blood affections.

All good druggists now sell Dreco, and it is highly recommended in this city by Evans Cut Rate Drug Store.

Readers' Viewpoint

Solving the Industrial Problem.
Editor The Advocate:—It seems that the conference called by President Wilson to work out a solution of the industrial problem has not succeeded. The problem is vital and effects all classes of people, so that a general discussion should be had and some agreement reached.

As a basis of argument, I make the following suggestions:

- (1) That the right of collective bargaining be recognized by law.
- (2) Create an industrial commission to regulate corporations employing $100,000 capital, or 100 laborers.
- (3) No shut-down or strike to be allowed except by permission of the commission.
- (4) Labor unions to be incorporated with the right to sue and be sued and to deposit United States government bonds as security for the faithful performance of their contracts. Unions to be responsible for the acts of their members.

We are facing certain conditions and it is not worth while to argue that they would have been different if we had done so and so in the past. Much of the business of the country is done by great corporations, and many of the laborers of this country belong to unions. These agencies have great power, and if allowed to dictate their own policies, may do much injury to each other, and the public. To allow either one to dictate terms to the other is contrary to the principles of true democracy, and the foundation principles of our government. Our government provides, that if two farmers fall out over the line fence, they are not to settle the controversy with their tots or shot guns, although they sometimes do, but such a proceeding usually results disastrously to one or both parties. Our government provides, that this problem goes to court. A disempowered jury hears the case and makes the decision.

It seems to me an impossibility for great corporations to deal economically on efficiency with the individual man, and the men should not be made to compete with one another for work.

Creating a commission may add to the expense of government, but it can not possibly be as expensive to the public at large as the present system of strikes and lock-outs.

The Chamber of Commerce is trying to bring industries to the city because they will benefit the city. The industry closes then is the city harmed, and we are supposed to have come to that stage in our civilization where it is recognized that no man has a right to do anything that would injure his fellowman, or the community at large.

Small corporations employing but few men do not effect to a very large extent the public, and leaving them exempt from the supervision of the commission will give opportunity for the employment of capital and labor that does not take kindly to the industry of supervision and will be somewhat of a check upon the larger corporations.

There is no security in dealing with a union or corporation that is unreasonable and cannot be made to fulfil its contracts, and some way must be devised to hold the individual to the performance of his task.

The working out of the details and putting into practice the foregoing plan is a great task, but the object to be accomplished is worthy of much effort. CARY W. MONTGOMERY, Newark, October 27.

Democracy or Classification.
Editor The Advocate:
This nation has just emerged from the greatest war in history. One of the objects of this war was to make the world safe for democracy. Scarcely have the fruits of this great struggle been realized when an organization known as the Ohio Taxpayers' league comes before the voters of Ohio with a proposition to undo all that has been done to make democracy safe. In short, the people of Ohio are asked to classify themselves for the purpose of taxation, for the man cannot well be separated from his investment. The great unrest in this nation today is due in large measure, to this class distinction, and if this class distinction is carried to its ultimate conclusion and made a part of the organic law of our state, it will reduce this great independent state to a condition worse than that of much of Europe. Class distinction, not equity, was to a large degree, responsible for this awful war.

Why classify men as bankers, merchants, farmers, laborers, home-owners, or the many other classes for the purpose of taxation?

Why is one man's dollar more sacred than another's? When the constitution of Ohio says that all property shall be listed for taxation at its true value in money, whose fault is it that it is not so listed? The latest circular from the taxpayers' league claims that the five billion dollars not on the tax duplicate is twice the assessed value of all property now on the duplicate. It is possible that two thirds of the wealth of this state is escaping its just share of maintaining the state's expense? Whose property is it that is not listed? Why does this Taxpayers' League not secure the enactment of laws that will compel the listing of this property, instead of trying to secure a change in the constitution that will give them practically exemption from taxation? These class fiction advocates point with pride to Kentucky. But even there classification is not a cure all. We spent several days in Kentucky recently and interviewed several men in regard to the working of the plan there. These men were farmers, business men, and laborers. All of them said their taxes were higher this year than ever before, although they resided in the three counties adjacent to Cincinnati, where a large amount of this intangible property is supposed to reside. The class fiction people are very solicitous for the welfare of the farmer and homeowner. Here is a concealed case of a man in one of those Kentucky towns opposite Cincinnati. He was a union harbor and owned his own home and shop on the same lot. He had been the assessor in his ward or district for several years and voted for classification, thinking it would place a lot of intangible property on the duplicate, and lower the tax on his home. Imagine his surprise when last year the first under the new law, he had $200 added to the assessment of $2100 on his home. This year $300 more was added, an increase of 23.8 per cent in two years. Why?
Because the intangible property failed to list itself, even at the low rate, in an amount necessary to produce the needed revenue, and it had to come from real estate. Which do the voters of Ohio want, classification or equality?

WHEN ADMIRAL FARRAGUT lightened his ships to lead them boldly over a treacherous Mississippi River bar and fight the great battle of New Orleans, he worked without ceasing for ten nights and days, eating and sleeping when and

His shaving had to be postponed. Yet no amount of physical or mental work could dull the fighting edge of the man who said "Damn the torpedoes—go ahead!"—and the razor that he used was like him—time-tested in principle—keen-tempered, dependable—perfectly balanced. If Farragut's razor lacked any modern feature, it was simply the extra convenience and safety of the guarded and two-edged

Beautiful Cloakings
For Those Who Intend

YOU CAN MAKE A STYLISH COAT

at a great saving, if you can make it yourself. Just figure how much material it will take, and as these cloakings are all so wide, it does not require more than three and a half to four yards, and about the same quality of things. Then all you need are the thread, buttons and a Butterick pattern, and if you prefer collar and cuffs of pretty fur fabric, the cost of this will be very small.

AT $4.50 YARD

This pretty cloth has zibelina finish on one side and a smooth satin finish on the other. 54 inches wide. Colors are brown—plum—green—navy.

A 50 inch cloth that will make stylish coats for the little ones—Shown in brown, green and taupe.

OR YOU MAY LIKE—A pretty Diagonal Suiting in Reindeer Shade at $1.50 yard.
A Bonnie Brae Jersey in a fancy weave is shown at $4.00 yard.

FOR THE LINING OF THE COAT

We know of nothing that will give such an attractive finish as well as give good service at the 36 inch Skinner's Satin, which comes in plain shades.

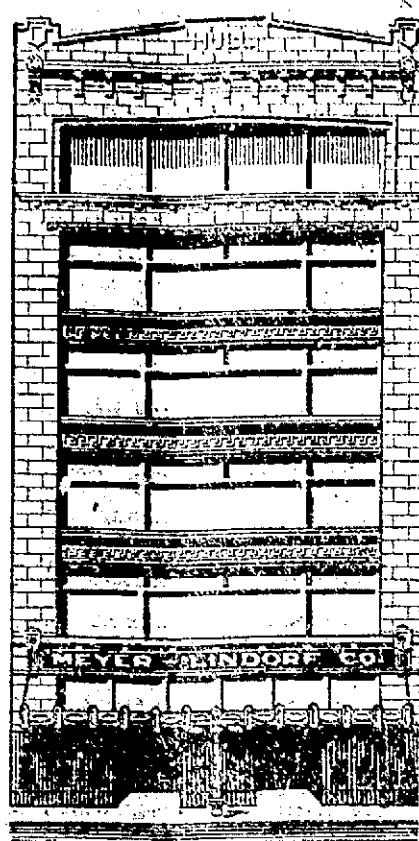

NOW FOR THE TRIMMINGS

Buttons of course are necessary and in fact form the main trimming. You may use one or more sizes—large ones for fastening and smaller ones for use on collar, cuffs, belt, etc. Our button department contains a beautiful line of fancy buttons in various colors.

COLLAR OR COLLAR AND MUFFS
MAY BE OF FUR FABRIC

It may be plush, broadtail or mole cloth, anyone of which will add to the beauty of the coat. These fabrics are so wide that only a small quantity is required.

MEDICAL MEN ADMIT
FLU Baffles Them

New Orleans, La., Oct. 29.—Because of the scarcity of specific knowledge of influenza the American public health convention in general session here today had no definite plan for the recurrence of the epidemic this year and approved the plan of Dr. Allen B. Freeman, Ohio State health commissioner, to center their efforts to prevent complications resulting from the disease.

Several delegates voiced their opinion that the epidemic would appear this winter and that a comprehensive plan for preventing it could not be detailed until more definite information was available.

Six new directors of the association were elected at the general session of all bodies last night. They included Dr. John A. Knapplman, Canton, Ohio.

Very Blank.
"Is that poetry what you call blank verse?"
"I think so," answered Miss Cayenne. "Anyway it reads as if the mind of the man who wrote it was a blank."

Antiseptic
Candy Removes
Constipation

Here is a candy that is so delicious, that everyone likes it—and at the same time it builds health by cleansing the bowels thoroughly, stimulating the liver and helping to make the whole digestive tract antiseptic.

This candy is called Partola. It looks and tastes like after-dinner mint candy, and has been named by far many thousands of users "The Doctor in Candy Form."

Partola Candies are favored by careful people because they are not merely an ordinary laxative. While they cost no more than an ordinary laxative, they are worth a great deal more because they clean the stomach and bowels, tend to purify the blood, tone up the whole system and, at the same time, exert an antiseptic effort upon the organs in which disease germs breed.

Get a package of Partola tablets from your druggist today; eat two tonight and see how much better you feel tomorrow. At all druggists, 25c, 50c and $1.00 boxes. Trial size, 10c.
